President Considers Possible Moves In Situation

Labor Secretary 'Daylight Time' Begins Hopes To Reopen Coal Negotiations

Schwellenbach Seeks To Re-convene Coal Wage Parley Early Next Week

BOWLES WARNS OF CRITICAL CONDITION

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—Economic stabilizer Chester Bowles warned today that if the soft coal strike continues "much longer," the nation will be "in for some really serious difficulty and trouble."

At the same time, Bowles declared that if the copper mines stay shut down very long "they will start everything slowing back."

Bowles' remarks were made in a radio address as bituminous coal operators were enroute back to Washington for a prospective resumption of negotiations in the nationwide walkout.

The operators are scheduled to meet tomorrow with Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach who hopes to reconvene the coal wage talks Monday or Tuesday.

Expect Lewis Back
John L. Lewis, leader of the 400,000 striking miners, also is expected back in the capital late today from a three-day antiraid union meeting in Hazleton, Pa.

Schwellenbach planned to confer with Lewis in advance of a request to the parties to resume negotiations, suspended April 10 in a deadlock.

Old Pennsylvania On Last Voyage

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—(INS)—The old battleship Pennsylvania sails tomorrow on the last voyage of her career, leaving Los Angeles harbor for Bikini atoll where the giant battleship will become one of the ships of the "guinea pig" fleet to take part in the atom bomb tests in July.

The Pennsylvania is the first of the fleet to sail. Other ships will follow later but are now undergoing alterations.

The Nevada, which has been painted a bright orange for her role as "bullseye" in the group of 100 vessels, is scheduled to leave Los Angeles harbor Wednesday.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Believe it or not, there was a flurry of snow early this morning according to reliable reports from different sections of the city.

Owen Fox, city forester, states that the dog-wood trees are blooming nicely at Gaston Park; the spring frosts did not seem to have hurt them.

It is unusual for it to snow at this season of the year, but the fact that it is not impossible was attested by a few light flurries which occurred this morning. Old timers can recall a number of instances when it has snowed in May, but after such an unusually early spring, it is quite a rarity.

Pa News' report of the parrot that invaded a home at Wallace and Blaine streets, on Thursday night, quickly resulted in the parrot getting back home. The News was issued only shortly yesterday when the owner of the parrot, a resident of Young street, claimed it.

Regardless of what other communities may do relative to the observance of Daylight Saving Time the city of New Castle government will commence observance of fast time at midnight Sunday, and continue on DST until midnight, September 28, announced Mayor John F. Haven today.

He said that the resolution adopted Thursday by council urged that all people observe the same plan, insofar as possible.

The mayor explained that the DST resolution was presented late and the midnight Sunday start was designated on the assumption that all church, business and industrial schedules for the week had been arranged according to the old, or present time.

Churches On Eastern Standard Time Sunday

He also explained that business houses of the city would be closed Saturday night and that, by not starting fast time until midnight, April 28, they would have ample time to arrange, if they so desired, to co-operate with the resolution passed by council.

In conjunction with the order issued by Mayor John Haven, that the city of New Castle, officially begin its observance of daylight saving time, Sunday at midnight, Rev. Walter W. Gilliland, president of the New Castle Ministerial Association, announced that all Protestant churches of the city will function on Eastern Standard or slow time at their services on Sunday, April 28. The churches will begin their Sunday observance of daylight saving time at their services on Sunday, May 5, he announced.

'Daylight Time' Plan Started In Britain

(By International News Service)

Pennsylvania—most of them, that is—will lose an hour's sleep tonight as the clocks are pushed ahead for the changeover from Eastern Standard Time to Daylight Saving.

Grouse or cheer over the switch as you will, credit for the idea of daylight saving time goes to William Willett, an English sportsman who wanted a longer day in which to enjoy the great outdoors—soggy though it may be in the British Isles.

Willett, well-heeled through his prosperous building business, campaigned at his own expense to boost the idea rather than 80 minutes, in four periods of 20 minutes each.

Britishers were unresponsive. A short time later, other proponents of the idea introduced a bill into the House of Commons calling for a less complicated 60 minute advance.

War-time Measure
True to tradition, the conservative Britishers continued to reject the advance until 1916, when a war-time measure was passed.

The list will be headed by Gen. Hideo Tojo, Japan's "Pearl Harbor" premier. The official announcement of the indictments is expected Monday.

The indictments will cover the entire Japanese plan for conquest in the Pacific beginning with the so-called "Manchurian incident" in 1931.

In addition to Tojo, five members of his cabinet will be named as war planners. The five are Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo, Navy Minister Shigenori Shinagawa, Finance Minister Okunori Kaya, Minister Without Portfolio Teichiro Suzuki and Chief Cabinet Secretary Naoki Hoshino.

Roxas Confident Of His Election
MANILA, April 27.—(INS)—Mariano Roxas reflected his own confidence in his as yet unofficial victory in the Philippine presidential election today by announcing his plans to speed rehabilitation of the war-torn islands.

With the total vote nearing the million mark, Roxas led a lead of more than 100,000 over incumbent President Sergio Osmeña.

Osmeña, however, would not publicly concede defeat although his supporters privately held little hope that the President could overtake Roxas.

The 54-year-old Roxas did not attempt to hide his enthusiasm and stated that he would like to make a trip to the United States as soon as possible.

The new government which shows a definite trend toward followers of Roosevelt, is expected to take office May 28.

Italian Peace Treaty Provides Tough Problems

Disposition Of Trieste Big Issue Facing Paris Big Four Parley

REPARATIONS ARE BEING STUDIED

PARIS, April 27.—(INS)—Diplomatic observers warned today the big four foreign ministers must stop side-stepping important issues and come to hard grips on the disposition of Trieste and the question of the Italo-Yugoslav frontier—or risk failure of their current discussions.

Although such matters as Italian reparations could be temporarily shelved by appointment of an investigating commission, it was felt that the future of Trieste must be encountered head-on.

That problem has already been studied by a special commission—which was unable to decide upon recommendations—and has been referred to the foreign ministers for decision. It was expected to be the first item on today's agenda.

Unexpected Issue
U. S. Secretary of State James Byrnes injected an unexpected issue when he brought up the matter of Austria for action by the ministers. Byrnes believes all occupational troops should be withdrawn soon from Austria.

Tied with the Trieste question is the settlement of the entire Venezia Giulia area.

COUNCIL SESSIONS RESUME MONDAY

NEW YORK, April 27.—(INS)—A final effort was being made today to persuade Soviet Russia to agree with other United Nations Security Council members over the manner in which the case against Franco Spain should be handled.

The other ten members would like to see the council take unanimous action next Monday. Falling over the week-end to bring the Soviet Union into camp they were prepared to vote her down ten to one.

Dr. Frank Read, an interne at the Cook County hospital, said the body was found in a rooming house.

Police said the body, stuffed in a 26x14x10-inch suitcase which was wrapped in an Army blanket, answered generally to the description of 3-year-old Linda Jean Rathburn who disappeared from her home in Kentland, Ind., about a year ago.

Irvin C. Herge is gone from Lawrence county. Shortly before noon today the confessed murder of Jean Fatur was taken to the western penitentiary in Pittsburgh by Sheriff Frank L. Coen and Deputy Sheriff Fred Shaffer, there to spend the rest of his natural life in expiation of the murder of his illicit sweetheart.

Herge had little to say. Some time before ten o'clock Sheriff Coen told him to get ready. It took Herge but a few minutes to get together what few things he had, and some time later the sheriff's car rolled out of the court house grounds headed for Pittsburgh and the grey stone prison on the Ohio river.

Herge pleaded guilty to the murder of Jean Fatur and Judge W. Walter Brabham heard testimony to determine the degree of his guilt. He found him guilty of murder in the first degree and imposed the life sentence.

Four Probes Of Wreck Started

Toll Of Deaths In Illinois Train Crash Has Now Reached 44

LARGE CREWS HAVE CLEARED WRECKAGE
NAPERVILLE, Ill., April 27.—(INS)—Four separate but coordinated investigations were underway today in the wreck of two fast Burlington line passenger trains at Naperville in which 44 persons were killed and more than 100 injured.

Federal, state, county and railroad officials were seeking to determine responsibility for Thursday's crash which occurred when the Expedition Flyer, traveling at a high rate of speed, plowed into the rear of the standing Advance Flyer.

The crack streamliners, involved in what was termed the worst train wreck the Middle West has seen in 28 years, left Chicago Union Station at about 12:35 p. m. bound west for Los Angeles.

Death Toll May Increase
Authorities feared that the death toll may be higher as 18 of the 28 injured still in hospitals were in a serious condition.

A crew of 150 workmen cleared away wreckage yesterday, and it was established that all who had been killed on the scene were identified.

'Daylight Time' For Most Cities In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, April 27.—(INS)—Daylight saving time will be observed by 83.3 per cent of Pennsylvania's population, it was estimated today by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

Residents of at least 204 cities will observe summer time, it was revealed in a survey of plans of 230 communities. Eleven rejected the change while 15 were non-committal, it was reported by the chamber after a survey of communities with populations over 2500.

'Daylight saving time apparently gained a great many adherents in Pennsylvania during the war years when it was compulsory,' the chamber reported. 'This year's list far exceeds the list of towns that observed fast time in previous years.'

Clocks will be turned ahead one hour at midnight in communities where fast time has been adopted.

Report Police Find Mussolini's Remains

ROME, April 27.—(INS)—Roman police were disclosed today to have found the remains of former Premier Benito Mussolini.

Strict secrecy was maintained by all officials, however, pending further investigation.

The remains of the one-time Il Duce were removed from Magliare cemetery near Milan last Monday night by vandals.

The ministry of the interior, questioned by International News Service, did not deny the reported discovery of Mussolini's remains.

Paralysis Of Industry May Be Developed

Chicago Area Situation Is Growing Critical Due To Coal Strike

CHICAGO, April 27.—(INS)—Business leaders and city officials warned today that Chicago and possibly the entire nation face industrial paralysis because of the 27-day strike of 400,000 soft coal miners.

A spokesman for the Commonwealth Edison Company said that damming coal stocks may force the utilities to ration power, tying up production throughout the Chicago industrial area and the nation.

He added that the company has coal sufficient for only 25 days.

The utilities spokesman said the company had called a department meeting for today at which the rationing of power would be discussed. Such rationing, he declared, would mean the return of the war-time "dim-out" for Chicago.

All Steel Production Hit
A steel industry spokesman warned that all steel production in the Chicago area would cease by June 1 unless coal deliveries are resumed soon.

The representative of the United States Steel Corporation's subsidiaries in South Chicago and Gary, Ind., announced that steel production, now at 55.3 per cent of capacity, will be cut to 45.3 per cent next week and to 30 per cent May 18. He added:

"This reduction will mean millions of dollars of lost business." (Continued on Page Two)

Noted Lawyer Is Named To Defend Gen. Mihailovich

Morris L. Ernst Tentatively Agrees To Defend Yugoslav Guerrilla Leader At Trial

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—Morris L. Ernst, internationally celebrated trial lawyer, was disclosed today to have tentatively agreed to defend Gen. Draja Mihailovich at the Yugoslav guerrilla leader's forthcoming "treason" trial in Belgrade.

Ray Brock, executive chairman of the committee for a fair trial for Mihailovich, announced that Ernst would undertake the role of legal counsel for the Yugoslav general "if the State Department is successful in its efforts to secure admission of all evidence."

May Shock World
At the same time, the committee said that informed Washington diplomatic sources had predicted that "the coming week will bring disclosures, from Allied personnel formerly attached to both Tito and Mihailovich, which may shock the world into sudden awareness of the big power 'deal' which dropped Yugoslavia and the entire Balkans into the Soviet orbit."

Mihailovich, a leader of Yugoslav guerrilla forces during the war, has been indicted by Marshal Tito as a "traitor" and "war criminal" and is being held in prison in Belgrade.

Brock said that Ernst, who will depart by air tomorrow for Europe, has agreed to act as defense counsel at the request of the Mihailovich defense committee.

President Is Studying Coal Strike Crisis

Considers Methods Of Making New Attempt To End Coal Strike

NO IMMEDIATE SETTLEMENT SEEN

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, On The Potomac, April 27.—President Truman explored the labor situation today with his top advisers in a new attempt to bring peace to the nation's coal mining industry.

The chief executive was joined this morning by reconversion Director John W. Snyder for a weekend conference on the coal strike situation and general reconversion picture.

Snyder motored down from Washington to the marine base at Quantico, Va., to board the presidential yacht off shore in the Potomac at 8 a. m.

He will remain aboard for the balance of the president's rest cruise which concludes Sunday afternoon when the Williamsburg returns to Washington.

Labor Adviser Aboard
John Steelman, special administrative assistant to the president and another of his chief advisers on labor problems, has been aboard throughout the week's trip.

Before boarding the Williamsburg this morning, Snyder talked with reporters. It was evident that the coal strike remains the chief thorn in the side of the nation in its efforts to obtain full industrial production of civilian goods.

Snyder said the coal strike now "is beginning to hurt."

He pointed to the sharp falling off of steel production due to lack of coal.

No Settlement In Sight
He saw no immediate prospects of settlement in the coal strike here. (Continued on Page Two)

Deshon Hospital Now Evacuated

Last Of 21,000 Army Patients Removed From Institution Near Butler

Here House is almost deserted. The long corridors of Deshon General hospital near Butler no longer echo to the tap tap of the crutches of wounded soldiers. No longer are smartly uniformed nurses seen going in and out of the wards, and the rooms that once housed the wounded veterans of Anzio Beachhead, Salerno, the Battle of the Bulge, or the battles of the South Pacific are now empty and quiet.

The huge hospital that once housed 24,000 wounded men, plus hundreds of commissioned and enlisted personnel and additional hundreds of civilian workers is almost empty. There are twenty-two patients left and these will be out in a day or two. The officers and enlisted personnel are down to a minimum and the civilian workers are being severed from their jobs. Some folks like the opera with its high falutin' tunes, and others like those doozy songs that rhyme with love and June. Still others like the symphonies with woodwinds, strings and brass, and I would say they have a place and all of them will pass. But for real symphonic beauty and for vocal tones complete, for music that's inspiring and also mighty sweet, I'll take the birds of early dawn in April or in May: there's music right from up above it's 42 today.

'Mercy Wheat' Is En Route To Port On Eastern Coast

Midwest Farmers Ship About 26,000 Bushels Of Wheat For European Use

CLIMAX, Minn., April 27.—(INS)—The first shipment of "mercy wheat" for starving Europe, about 26,000 bushels, was on its way by train today on the personal plea of LaGuardia, UNRRA director, to midwest farmers for food.

LaGuardia, former New York mayor, told 2,500 Minnesota and North Dakota wheat growers that the UNRRA goal is 110 million bushels for shipment abroad by May 25.

LaGuardia said that UNRRA hopes to get 50 million bushels out of the Red river valley in the next 30 days. He was joined in his plea for aid by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Anderson.

LaGuardia said:

"It isn't money we need. It's food, and there isn't enough in the world to feed all the people.

"Bread is the only sustenance that millions have. The next 90 days are critical. Those 90 days will mean eternity for some as no more wheat will be able to get enough wheat across in time to save thousands.

"We've got the ships. We've got the money. Give us the wheat."

U N SEEKING TO CHANGE RUSSIA'S STAND ON SPAIN

has been adamant in his demand that world powers collectively sever diplomatic relations with the Fascist government in Madrid.

Gromyko holds that enough evidence already has been presented against Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime to make it apparent that international friction has developed as a result of Spain's machinations, and that world peace and security are imperiled.

And because Gromyko and his government hold this view, difficulty was being experienced in selling Russia on the compromise plan which calls for appointment of a five-power sub-committee to make still further inquiry into the Franco government's alleged offenses against the United Nations.

Recess To Give Opportunity

In any event, the council's recess until Monday afternoon was taken primarily to make the effort, Mexican Delegate Rafael Del La Colina asked for the vote postponement on the ground it would give him and other delegates time to consult with their home governments—but later he conceded that it was Gromyko they hoped would do the consulting with Moscow.

The fact yesterday of winning Poland and France over the compromise had been no mean one, particularly Poland. It was Poland which, preferred the original charges against Franco Spain, and Poland consistently has sided with Russia thus far.

Defection by Russia in the Monday vote may precipitate a new argument on interpretation of the United Nations charter.

Would Resume Argument

La Col. W. R. Hodgson, Australian delegate who effected the compromise, contends he is offering it under article 29—which would make a sub-committee's appointment a procedural matter needing only any seven affirmative votes of the 11 members.

However, if Russia votes no, and then contends it is a substantive question, the argument would start all over, because substantive matters required seven affirmative votes, including all of the big five powers. And thus Gromyko could argue Russia, by her lone dissenting vote, had vetoed the compromise proposal.

Membership on the five-power board of inquiry was arousing speculation even in advance of final action. It is known the United States will not serve. Three seeming certainties were Poland, Australia and France. There was speculation that the Netherlands and China would be the other two.

said the administration is doing everything possible to bring John L. Lewis UNLV faction and the coal operators together.

Snyder indicated that the coal strike far outweighed in seriousness at the moment the threatened railroad strike.

The last two days of the president's cruise promised to be cold ones. A cold wintry wind swept the Potomac this morning in sharp contrast to the warm sun days of the first part of the voyage when the president attended naval maneuvers in the Atlantic off the Virginia coasts.

DESHON HOSPITAL NOW EVACUATED

Some will remain through May, others will stay through June when the army finally turns the hospital over as surplus.

It marks the end of a remarkable institution and the closing of another chapter in a long military career for the commandant, Colonel C. J. Gentzkow.

Approximately 21,000 Cases

Through the Deshon General hospital have passed approximately 21,000 wounded soldiers. Hard of hearing, men with head wounds, chest wounds, maimed legs and arms, nearly 21,000 of them have been treated in Deshon and some modern miracles of surgery have been performed.

But the army is about through with Deshon. The last hospital train left there Thursday with 192 men bound for Halloran General hospital on Long Island and Deshon General hospital is almost cavernous in its emptiness.

To Abandon such a complete hospital unit would seem like folly. It is hoped the veterans' administration will take the hospital over. Only political stupidity would abandon it now when veterans' hospitals are so badly needed and building materials are so short.

FOUR PROBES OF WRECK STARTED

Inquiry are State's Attorney Lee Daniels, Coroner Paul Isherwood and Sheriff John Horstman of Du Page county, and Coroner Victor Peterson of Kane county.

Also participating are the Illinois Commerce Commission and various Burlington Railroad agencies.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was expected to stand by but not to participate actively in the investigation.

The investigators indicated they were centering their inquiries on W. W. Blaine, 68-year-old engineer of the Exposition Flyer, who remained in his cab and suffered a fractured skull in the crash.

They also were checking the Burlington road's elaborate automatic block control system.

Blaine, a veteran of 44 years of railroad work, was under technical arrest at the St. Charles hospital in Aurora, Ill., on a warrant charging manslaughter. Physicians said he would be hospitalized for two or three weeks.

BAND FESTIVAL CLIMAX TONIGHT IN BIG CONCERT

Force band maestro, the young musicians staged a dress rehearsal matinee Friday afternoon in full uniform and showed amazing progress.

Howard Pleased

Major Howard said yesterday that the hand-picked students have displayed great enthusiasm and really fine musicianship at the rehearsal.

"These festivals are fine experience for high school musicians," said the army director, "they learn to meet and mix with other young students who are as interested in music as they are. They also learn to work with their fellow-musicians, striving for the common good of the composite band. Much can be learned from such a gathering and interchange of ideas."

Friday the band host whisked through a trying day with the stamina that only youth can display. Beginning at 9 a. m. the group rehearsed until 11:30. After an adjournment for lunch they went back to the stage again for another practice session from 12:45 until 1:30.

At 1:45 p. m. in full uniform, the entire band held their matinee program, with some 500 grade and junior high school students making up the audience. The band was alternately under the direction of many of the visiting directors, with Major Howard also stepping to the podium to lead them through several selections. A half-hour of this matinee was sent out over the air, and Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools, delivered a welcoming address to the host.

After the matinee performance the band, with the school directors, posed for a group picture. They took their seats again for another two hours of rehearsal on the stage.

A break for dinner and then back to the stage once more for the final practice of the day. In the evening the entire group enjoyed a dance in the Cathedral ballroom, from 9 to 12 p. m.

This morning the students were guests of the Penn theater where they took in the show at 10 a. m. At 11 a. m. a clinic was conducted in the senior high school, with W. Schultz and Max Adams, both of the Carnegie Tech music department, giving instruction in double reed instruments to many of the directors and interested students.

Following lunch today, the group will have a break until 3 p. m. at which time they will assemble for the final rehearsal on the Cathedral stage. Dinner will be served to the entire host in the Cathedral dining room this evening at 6 p. m. and then comes the concert to wind up the strenuous three days.

Band Festival Sidelights

Members of the Ambridge high school band, ninety in all, will arrive in the city today to hear the concert tonight. Their trip to New Castle was sponsored by the Ambridge Band Boosters Mothers of the town, who arranged for busses and financed the journey.

The young musicians in town, plus their high school directors, can't express enough praise for the fine meals they have been served. Mrs. Rachel P. Taylor has been in charge of feeding the host and the compliments are a reflection on her fine work.

The band host found out what it was like to be the audience for once as they danced and listened to the tunes of an orchestra at a dance given for them in the Cathedral ballroom Friday night.

Musicians must be in their souls for a large soup of the visiting musicians were seen and heard parading up and down the streets of the city Thursday and Friday nights singing bits of many songs.

Guest band directors have been lavish in their praise of the wonderful reception and treatment afforded them in New Castle. They have lauded the smooth-working administrative machinery set up by the committees, leaving none of their wants unattended.

Some of the warm welcomes given the students in private homes has also met with the unanimous approval of the band host.

James Colonna, music director of Kittanning high school, is the only visiting maestro who will conduct his own composition in the concert. It is entitled "America Forever March" and will be heard in the first part of the concert tonight.

ITALIAN PEACE TREATY PROVIDES TOUGH PROBLEMS

pointed out that the American, French and British delegates, while not in complete agreement, have been opposed to solutions advocated by Russia.

The Soviet Union has steadfastly supported Yugoslavia's demand for Trieste and its adjacent territory.

View Is Challenged

This view was challenged by a partial report submitted by the deputies which said that on the basis of population, Trieste was Italian, but commercially its value was divided among Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria and Czechoslovakia as an Adriatic sea outlet.

Appointment of a commission to study Italian reparations and agreement on a preamble to a peace treaty with Italy disposed of the first two points on the deputies' list.

Once Trieste and the frontier questions are solved, the foreign ministers will be confronted with other equally serious Italian problems. They include:

The Dodecanese Islands, the South Tyrol, the France-Italian frontier, Italian colonies in Northern Africa, the size of the future Italian navy, disposition of surplus Italian naval units, a proposed Allied inspection and treaty-enforcement commission.

Byrnes Wins Point

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was credited in informed circles with having won a major victory in forcing the creation of the reparations commission.

The move eased at least temporarily the sore spot raised through Russian insistence that Italy pay 300-million dollars, with the Soviets getting one-third, Yugoslavia, Greece and Albania the remainder.

Byrnes had protested against naming a fixed sum until it is determined whether Italy can pay without first borrowing from the U. S.

A mild setback occurred for Byrnes, however, when the delegates at their second session failed to raise the question of placing Austrian and Western German problems on the agenda. The Big Four did agree to separate and give individual consideration to American recommendations for a settlement with Austria that would be equivalent to a peace treaty.

The decision to defer the matter of partitioning Western Germany was made without criticism by French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. He surprisingly said he was satisfied, since more time was needed.

The semi-liberal apparently laid in the lap of the administration leaders the question of whether to put aside the British loan in order to dispose of the draft legislation which is becoming increasingly urgent.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, warned:

"We have only enough coal at the 14th street pumping station to last nine days. The Springfield avenue station has enough for 16 days. All others have an approximately 30-day supply."

"How water will be pumped into homes, hospitals, stores, offices and factories after then I do not know. Health will be in danger and life itself jeopardized."

Mattresses should be turned from top to bottom one week, and from side to side the next, to prevent sagging.

lock over the union's health, safety and welfare demands.

Bowles said he was "terribly worried" about the coal strike, and added:

"The steel plants and so many other plants that produce our raw materials depend on coal, or the coke that's made from coal. And we need coal to keep our power plants and freight trains rolling."

"If the coal strike continues much longer, I'm afraid we're in for some really serious difficulty and trouble."

The Association of American Railroads said the nation's principal carriers have a 296 days' supply of coal, although Schwellenbach said some roads have only 10 days' fuel.

The labor secretary admitted that there had been little change in the positions of the miners and operators in their dispute, but expressed belief that the growing seriousness of the strike would now make a renewal of negotiations worthwhile.

body was that of a girl about five years old and that it had been in the suitcase several weeks.

The age and sex of the child will not be announced officially until Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's physician, examines the body later today.

The child's body was clothed in a red dress with white polka dots and white shoes. Among the articles found in the suitcase was a red coat. Records of the missing persons bureau showed that the Kentland girl was wearing a red coat at the time of her disappearance.

Police Lt. James Canning said that Hirth told him he discovered the suitcase behind some trash in a coal shed of the basement.

Hirth was held in technical custody as a material witness at the inquest. Police said he was not questioned until seven hours after the discovery of the body.

Canning quoted Hirth as saying he failed to notify police for two hours after discovering the body because he didn't want to excite his mother.

They Made The Grade

The American language has been greatly enriched or seriously degraded, according to the viewpoint, during the past decade. It has brought into current use such euphemistic, if not exactly euphonious, terms as "perk" and "live". The GI has brought back from foreign service an assortment of highly descriptive words like "snatch" which have taken their place in the vocabulary of every young American.

In the past lexicographers have been inclined to treat these vigorous newcomers to the language with a haughty indifference that rarely broke down until the words, by long usage, had become firmly established in the common tongue. It is a healthy and heartening sign that this attitude is changing now.

The modern dictionary-makers are turning a receptive and tolerant ear to additions to the language. All of the jargon listed above, and a great deal more, has been admitted to the new Funk and Wagnalls dictionary to be issued this fall.

The changed attitude of the lexicographers is perhaps partly due to the influence of the radio. The coming of a new word and its general acceptance in the language formerly was a slow growth that took years to complete. But since the advent of the radio, a new and vivid word or turn of phrase can sweep the country overnight.

How long the new words will endure is, of course, something impossible to predict. In any living language, new words are born and old words take on new shades of meaning every day. But a dictionary falls short of its purpose today unless it includes a reasonable proportion of the new terms which, for one reason or another, show signs of becoming a permanent part of the common tongue.

Popcorn Bread Possibilities

Any reasonable suggestion for the conservation of wheat is destined to attract attention, thus the proposal of a Chicago baker provokes both humor and discussion. He advocates a mixture for bread containing 25 per cent popcorn flour.

The baker has experimented with it and says the bread baked from this combination of wheat and popcorn flour "has a taste far superior to ordinary wheat bread." Such a loaf is said to be higher in protein value than all-wheat bread and, as a final allure, the baker insists that it will remain fresh 50 per cent longer.

Purdue university has been experimenting with popcorn for the last few years. The university has developed a strain in sufficient quantity to supply commercial growers and its sponsors assert that it expands 15 per cent more than ordinary popcorn. The question naturally arises, could popcorn flour made from the Purdue strain be unduly explosive?

It would be little less than tragic for a housewife to bake biscuits and, at the very moment when they seemed ready for the table, have them blow their tops. It would be embarrassing and probably conducive to domestic infelicity at breakfast if bread containing popcorn flour exploded in the toaster.

Perhaps the Chicago baker knows how to control all these hazards. Perhaps he was working with a less explosive and expansive popcorn than the Purdue brand. The subject is one for the earnest consideration of culinary experts and it might be well to call in atomic scientists while the flour is being tested.

Teaching Of History

Out of a recent three-day conference of the Mississippi Valley historical association at Indiana university came some valuable and significant conclusions. Leaders in history teaching, representing many American institutions, insisted that the subject is inadequately taught in high schools, that it too frequently falls into the hands of ill-prepared teachers in colleges and universities, and that its scope is sometimes so narrow that the student fails to profit by the type of instruction to which he is exposed.

Several of the speakers emphasized the unusual interest in history being shown by service men who have been discharged from the armed forces and who are now enrolling in the nation's institutions of higher learning. An extremely large percentage of these new students want to study history and it often happens that their familiarity with foreign conditions makes them more alert and informed than instructors who are depending upon courses of study that may have been formulated years ago.

There was a disposition on the part of teachers at the conference to demand that more attention be given to local and state history in the secondary schools, supplementing this with American history at the proper grade level, and then include a comprehensive inquiry into world history in order to round out the course.

Prof. Donald Carmony of Indiana university declared that history teaching would be more valuable if pupils began with their own community. "We could have more effective teaching of history if we did not dilute it so much," he said.

A Little Light Breaks

At least some of the ardent left-wingers are coming to see the light. Ever since they came into power, until recently, they have been claiming everything that has happened since the end of the First World War on to President Hoover. But of late their party line seems to be changing. Those who are coming forth advocating the extension of all 4 Chester Bowles bureaucratic powers for another year or so are beginning to point back to the terrible inflation which followed the Wilsonian policies of the First World War and admonishing us that we don't want such things happening again. One of the New Deal papers advocating Mr. Bowles' continuation with powers untrammelled is the Anderson S. C. Daily Mail. Recently it reproduced, to strengthen its own argument, a statement made by a distinguished South Carolina citizen which contained the following truth:

"It has taken 25 years for the people of South Carolina to recover from the disaster that followed the inflation of 1918-1920."

It seems dimly possible therefore that President Hoover was not responsible for all the ills which followed World War One. As a matter of fact no one statesman in the United States or elsewhere was responsible for them. The inflation and suffering which followed the war was world-wide. The depressions which struck us in the twenties were world-wide, too. Mr. Hoover, or no other American, caused them, unless he was responsible also for the hard times which struck every country in Europe and Asia.

We had a lot of inflation following World War One and we have a lot of inflation now. If you don't believe it go out and buy scarce commodities if you can and compare the prices with those of 1937.

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

Aid In Food Crisis Must Be Increased

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Information has come that the bread-pasta ration in Italy is being reduced from 225 to 150 grams a day. This would mean that the total number of calories on which the poorer Italians in the urban areas must live would be lower than the diet provided in German concentration camps during the war.

This was behind the desperate trans-Atlantic telephone call which Premier Alcide de Gasperi of Italy made to Florentino La Guardia, director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. The premier warned La Guardia that he could not be responsible for what might happen after the cut.

The majority of Italians are today subsisting on about 650 calories a day, plus perhaps another 250 which can be scraped together in the black market. This is little more than a third of the standard considered essential to maintain normal health.

Put alongside the news from India and the Far East, it makes the efforts to meet the food crisis look woefully inadequate. How much will fall short, no one dares predict.

The combined food board has just stepped up the April allocation of wheat for UNRRA from 363,000 to 460,000 tons. But unless it can be shown where the grain is to come from, this will remain, as in the past, a mere gesture on paper.

Can't Meet Request

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson has said that it is impossible to meet UNRRA's request for 700,000 tons a month. Consistently, in the first three months of this year, the United States has fallen down on the amounts it promised to UNRRA.

Back of all the other demands is the grim specter of India. Herbert Hoover used unfortunate language in New Delhi when he said that famine is "not now present" in India. If it is not present at this moment, it is so close that its potential victims can feel it like the hot breath of a devouring animal drawing closer and closer.

By scraping the barrel, the combined food board has just found about 290,000 tons of wheat for immediate shipment to India. This includes 15,000 tons from the U. S. that were to have been sent earlier; 60,000 tons to be diverted on grain ships destined for Britain; and 217,000 tons from Australia. About the last there is uncertainty.

Some terrific arithmetic comes out of India. The recent Indian food mission set a minimum need of 2,000,000 tons of wheat up to July 1. For every ton by which this minimum is missed, 10 persons will die.

Huge Supply For India

Recently, officials of the combined food board set a target for India of 1,400,000 tons by July 1. That means a 600,000-ton deficit. It means that 6,000,000 people will die of starvation.

But the actual fact is that even the wheat goal may be too high. Shipments to India may not exceed 1,000,000 tons. That calls for a bit of arithmetic which should startle even the most casual.

Millions in India are living today at a starvation level. They are not dying yet. The harvest of death will come in the next three months.

Perhaps if the steps now being taken in this country and in other exporting countries had been taken six or seven weeks ago, the world might just have got by with a minimum of actual famine. But so much discussion and controversy came first.

One effect of this was to stimulate hoarding in this country. It served, too, to touch off a speculative market in grains in the Argentine. That, as one harried food official put it, is the perfect example of merchandizing in death.

Those dealing at first hand with the food crisis believe that present plans are based on much too short a span of time. It seems probable that the world shortage will persist well into 1947, and perhaps even into 1948, although the next two and a half months will see the most acute phase.

"Famine is not immediately as explosive as an atomic bomb," said one official. "But in the long run, its effect is far greater than the hunger atomic bombs." We are saying the dragon's teeth and that the harvest will be no one can foresee.

By one of those ironies that history cherishes, this comes at a time when earnest men are working to put together a world organization to preserve the peace. The mounting wave of hunger may overwhelm the highest hopes.

Stassen's Campaign Already Under Way

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The Republican choice for President in 1948 obviously is limited to four or five men who already have achieved some distinction in public life. Dewey, Taft, Bricker, Vandenberg and Stassen. That is the list of available candidates. The idea of a "dark horse" whose name has not yet been mentioned is not seriously entertained by practical men.

FOR one thing, there is no such animal. For another, there would not be time to develop him if there were. Of the five available, Mr. Stassen is the most outspoken and active. He is that rare combination—a liberal with common sense. He has youth, courage, character, candor and capacity. In civil life he has a fine record as governor of a great state, and an equally fine record as an officer in the United States Navy. To every one of the other four availables can be ascribed some of these Stassen assets. But to none can be ascribed them all.

IN addition, Mr. Stassen is the only one now campaigning for the nomination. Whether he can profitably keep his up for 36 months remains to be seen, but certainly he is trying every day in every way to promote his prospects, setting up Stassen organizations wherever it can be done and so far as he can, making friends and molding sentiment. Nor is he insufficiently financed—not by any means. But, with the national convention more than two years off, no prudent man would attempt to forecast its action. There is, however, no risk in saying that Mr. Stassen is making some progress, almost certainly will be a strong figure when the balloting begins, easily may be nominated despite the present strong opposition within his party.

NEVERTHELESS, it is a long row he has to hoe and there are a good many ways in which he may be ditched or may ditch himself. At the moment it appears that Mr. Stassen will make his fight as the "liberal" candidate, assailing all other aspirants and their friends as "reactionaries" and "Old Guardsmen." At least that is the idea spread by some of his supporters with CIO affiliations and extreme left-wing tendencies who recently have been posing as authoritative interpreters of the Stassen mind. Perhaps this may be smart strategy but some of Mr. Stassen's close friends do not think so and are somewhat disturbed.

Present Congress Cold To Draft, Service Merger

Truman's Three-Point Security Program Now Dead

Russians Have Own System For Setting Up Airlines

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Two phases of President Truman's three-point national security program can be written off now as dead for this session of Congress.

Legislators won't touch peacetime conscription with any kind of gloves in an election year. So universal military training is out for the present.

Merger of the armed services probably would pass if it got to the floors of Congress. But its opponents are fighting a delaying action, and time is getting short.

The Senate military affairs committee's interest in a merger bill has "cooled," but there probably is sufficient warmth left for the measure to be approved.

But the Senate naval affairs committee wants to have its say on any merger plan. The committee, following the Navy point of view, is against it and is going to demand a chance to hold hearings—which of course, will be "thorough."

Meanwhile the time for Congress to take its summer recess nears. It's doubtful if the action contemplated on the two proposals can be completed before the summer recess.

Soviets Have System
The Soviet Union has its own system of setting up commercial airlines. The Russians are going to provide the personnel for commercial airlines they plan to set up in Europe.

Arrangements already have been made with Poland and negotiations with Hungary are about completed. In each case, Russia supplies the pilots, ground crews, operator and equipment. The other countries, joining with Russia in the establishment of airlines furnish only the airfields.

Moscow's aggressiveness gives her a jump over other commercial lines in the European countries. And, the fields are important to any defense system in eastern Europe.

Vows were exchanged by the young couple at 9 o'clock before an altar beautifully embellished. Rev. Fr. Francis C. Strodt officiated using the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a gown of white nylon lace over satin. Her fingertip veil was caught in a heart-shaped cap trimmed with pearls, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and orchids. Her single strand of pearls, was a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Rose LaRocco, as maid of honor wore a gown of pink net, and carried red roses.

Nuzio Guido served as best man. Following a wedding breakfast was served at the bridegroom's home, and a wedding dinner was served at a suburban dining room on the New Wilmington road. A reception was held in the Sons of Italy hall.

Why Should I Be In The Church?

Dear Reader:

No doubt you are standing aloof from Christ and are in a lost condition, because you have an erroneous idea concerning the importance of being a Christian. It is common to hear someone say, "Why should I be in the church? I live a BETTER LIFE than many persons who are in a church. In fact I see many of them do things I would not dare do." You are correct, but that rule is not the way to excuse your own neglect. (Heb. 2:3). "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" You need to learn what the church is, and what it is for. Most people think the church is just a band of people joined together in religious fellowship to help each other to live better. You may reason, "I can live as well outside as man of them do inside". That is true, but the scriptures teach "EVERY MAN MUST GIVE ACCOUNT OF THE DEEDS DONE IN THE BODY". Members of denominations seem to regard the church as nothing more than a religious SOCIETY, organized to good work help the poor, preach THEIR DOCTRINE, enjoy mutual fellowship. Isn't it true some Lodges have the same laws?

Most "churches" claim no divine origin, not even by their leaders. The human founders of most of them are well known and freely acknowledged.

But all of this does not picture the BIBLE idea of the CHURCH. The BIBLE makes no mention of the vast number of SOCIETIES ORIGINATED BY MEN and called churches. The MODERN manifestation of CHURCHMANSHIP is not provided for in the BIBLE.

Thousands were converted to CHRIST during the Apostolic ministry, but they did not split into denominations. (EPHESIANS 4:4 "THERE IS ONE BODY (CHURCH)"; (EPHESIANS 4:5 "One LORD, one FAITH, and ONE BAPTISM"). I admit you need not join any MAN MADE SOCIETY OR CHURCH, but you are commanded by the BIBLE to become a CHRISTIAN and that will make you a member of the CHURCH OF CHRIST. (GALATIANS 3:27, "For as many of you as have been BAPTIZED INTO CHRIST have put on CHRIST").

In China the word God brings to the mind of the natives a great host of idol gods, but the word in the BIBLE means the true and living GOD. Likewise the word church to most persons in America means a host of human DENOMINATIONS, DIVIDED. Because of this divided condition we, all of us, should be willing to take the BIBLE AS OUR ONLY GUIDE IN CHURCH MATTERS.

YEAST AND HEALTH

The performance of an engine depends a great deal on the fuel which it is provided.

The performance of the body likewise depends a lot on the quality and quantity of food consumed.

Until recently, experience was about the only teacher to tell people what to eat.

After awhile science came along and found out some reasons why certain foods are valuable.

Long ages ago people learned that yeasts were beneficial in the diet. They used them in various ways.

Science finally confirmed this opinion. It was found that yeasts provided valuable vitamins and other things which help to keep us healthy.

Mother can slip a little yeast into food in various ways. Some people like the taste and some do not.

The taste can be disguised very easily and the yeast does its good work just the same.

Muscle make grace. Carrying burdens on the head develops a queenly carriage. Sorry, ladies, but "there is no excellence without great labor."

Plan Proportionate Representation At State Convention

An equal opportunity will be afforded to all of the churches and Sunday schools in Lawrence county to be proportionately represented at the 84th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association which is to be held in the Cathedral of this city October 8 to 11.

The advantage in being a registered delegate is that each registered delegate receives the state convention packet, is an official delegate and can vote on all questions arising and by wearing the convention badge are admitted to all sessions in preference to those not registered. At the large general sessions, others will be admitted but not until the registered delegates are taken care of and are seated.

The plan is for every church and Sunday school of Lawrence county to be given a quota of registered delegates. A check is then sent to the county association for this number, and "registration receipts" are mailed to the churches and Sunday schools to be sold at $1.50 each to its members. In this way, according to arrangement made with the state association, a large part of the expense of the state convention will be taken care of and the churches and Sunday schools will get back the money they have advanced to the county association for local registrations.

The plan is to have the money collected for the 1000 Lawrence county delegates, before the annual county convention June 13, and the ministers of the 126 churches of Lawrence county are on the committee to accomplish this objective. One New Castle minister of one of the larger churches made this remark which sums up the situation: "If our church and Sunday school sent 60 delegates to attend a convention in the eastern part of the state, it would cost approximately $1,500. We can send the county association a check for $90 for 60 delegates from our church and we can sell these to our members and get our money back. Moreover, we have also helped with the expense of entertaining the state convention."

St. John's Church To Present Pageant

Bayard, will be presented again Sunday evening, April 28, at 8:00 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran church, North street and Nesheim avenue. A great deal of time has been spent in rehearsal by the cast of 60 people under the leadership of the Rev. A. E. Simon, minister. Miss Annabelle Emery is serving as narrator of the play while a suitable musical background is being furnished by Miss Barbara Schulz, pianist, and Thomas Wiand, cellist.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

THEY reason, rather soundly, that Mr. Stassen has got to be nominated in a convention controlled by conservatives in which neither he nor anyone else will have a majority on the first ballot. Obviously, his chance is to obtain on the decisive ballot support from conservatives who start out as opposed to him. They think that it would be easy to turn these present opponents who ultimately might swing to him into bitter enemies who never would.

IT WOULD be easy to do this by a name calling, mudslinging campaign such as judging from the demagogic outpourings of these unsolicited spokesmen, he plans. Those who know Mr. Stassen best and are most eager to see him nominated, insist that this is far from the fact; that the unbridled use of derogatory adjectives is not his way of describing men who are not for him. Nor does he make the silly charge that Senator Taft, two years in advance, has "bought up" the Southern delegates or is likely to "buy up" anyone at any time. Those who use these adjectives and make these charges are not, it is said, speaking for him.

MR. STASSEN, his intimates insist, realizes that this sort of stuff does him no good and that it comes from advanced New Dealers who would like to push him much farther to the left than he intends to go. But his friends do not see exactly what he can do about it. He cannot, they say, control these embarrassing and overzealous advocates. Nor can he very well repudiate them without getting himself into sticky controversies calculated to confuse his actual position.

ABOUT all he can do is to hope that events will prove that vituperation, misrepresentation and denunciation are not weapons he intends to use; that while firmly sustaining his common-sense liberalism, he has no disposition to regard those who disagree with him as either villains or morons. However, there would be relief in the inner Stassen circle if these authoritative spokesmen would become a little less authoritative.

mode of life" and their membership in country clubs. On a recent occasion, the gag backfired.

Lewis, caustically asked Harry Moses, of Pittsburgh, United States Steel representative in the coal negotiations, about his country club memberships. Moses replied:

"I belong to two country clubs. John, one at Lynch, Ky., and the other at Gary, W. Va. There are both small outfits and the membership is 90 per cent miners."

"In fact, as the Gary club the chairman is a 22-year-old miner who plays 18 holes every afternoon after his regular shift in the mines." Lewis, who eats in the swank Carleton hotel and smokes expensive cigars, quickly dropped the subject of country clubs.

It takes a lot of lipstick to keep the American women sizeable.

The Civilian Production administration says that they use about 470,000 pounds a year. This means 130,000,000 individual lipsticks are purchased annually by United States women.

became a part of you and how ample and satisfying were our outlets when restrained.

Some believe, of course, that all desirable inhibitions can develop indirectly as the child is constantly attracted to desirable behavior and without definite restraints (inhibitions) in the early years of the child necessary if this child in later years is to acquire self-control, self-inhibitions.

Train the tot from the time he begins to toddle to avoid a few definite things he must never have or do and set the stage so there will be many times more other proper things he may choose to do with strong satisfaction. Help him grow in self-inhibition, self-control, more and more as he grows older in order that he should need less inhibitions from without.

Regardless of everything else, nobody should have the "right" to do anything that injures millions of his fellow citizens.

DIVINE GUIDANCE

"I will guide thee with mine eye." "In all thy ways acknowledge him, and He shall direct thy paths." (Psa. 32:8). (Proverbs 3:6) May we always be sure of Divine guidance? The following simple rules may be helpful:

1. Be absolutely sincere and then let ONE and ONLY one thought actuate you—the glory of God.
2. Do not become agitated. If you have honestly missed God's first plan, He is considerate and glad to give you another opportunity. BELIEVE HIM! Above all, see to it that all SELF-INTEREST and SELF-SEEKING are gone. Few are wholly free from unsanctified ambition. Some believe they are, but the fact that they are UNEASY when OPPOSED is PROOF of LACK of PERFECT RESIGNATION. Being dead to all things but GOD, will enable one to keep calm, and make HIM (God) responsible as to the outcome.—E. E. SHELHAMER.

Signs Of The Times—Newer, Better Highways

"Bids will be received in the office of the Secretary of Highways."

More than an advertisement, that line is a promise for the future, a promise of newer, better highways for Pennsylvania, highways that will meet the challenge of expanding transportation facilities.

It takes money to build highways, lots of money—and that money comes from license and gasoline taxes. Motor trucks are bearing their full share of the expense, gladly, for the highways that give you quicker, easier access to vacation spots, also provides a faster traffic artery for the delivery of merchandise.

The motor trucks are paying a heavy tax for highway purposes, but the signs of the times are that we are going to get our money's worth.

Missouri Visit To Turkey Under Soviet Paper Fire

Soviet Newspaper Charges Warship
Visit Was Anti-Russian Act

MOSCOW, April 27.—(INS)—The Soviet newspaper Ivestia charged today that Turkey construed the visit of the United States battleship Missouri as an anti-Russian act on the part of the American government.

The newspaper also printed in great length a number of wartime acts of the Ankara government which, it said, added up to support of Germany.

Ivestia's article, under the title of "Turkish Boom," said: "In England and America noisy advertising and sensation are called boom. A boom pursues a definite aim—to mislead people and derive some advantage from this fact."

"While creating a boom on account of the visit of the Missouri, Turkish newspapers made plenty of hostile attacks against the Soviet Union. All the Turkish papers tried to make their desires look like reality and prove that the visit of the Missouri was a hostile act on the side of the United States in respect to the Soviet Union."

Quotes Admiral

The Soviet newspaper quoted a statement by Admiral H. Kent Hewitt, captain of the Missouri, during reanean, in which he reportedly said that the "Missouri's cruise does not mean that the United States intends to support Turkey in connection with Soviet-Turkish relations."

Hewitt's statement, Ivestia said, could not fail to disillusion anti-Soviet Turkish circles.

The newspaper said Turkish support of Germany began with the treaty of friendship concluded June 18, 1941, and was borne out by admittance of German war vessels through the Bosphorus Straits, Ivestia continued.

"Whether Turkish statesmen like it or not, the history of the great war of progressive forces of humanity against black Hitler reaction recorded their actions in its pages such as they were."

Probe Angles In Letendre Slaying

FBI Asked To Check Chicago And Miami Angles In Slaying Of Wealthy Sportsman

WOONSOCKET, R. I., April 27.—(INS)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation was to be asked today to help probe Chicago and Miami "angles" in the murder of John F. (Big Jack) Letendre, sportsman and politician.

Letendre, director of the Narragansett race track, was shot down in gangster fashion and police blamed professional killers.

A wealthy and influential police official from another state was interviewed by local police but refused to supply any information concerning his alleged knowledge that Letendre feared he would be slain.

Two Rubbed Out
Officials said that Letendre had two partners in a Florida gambling enterprise and that all three were slayed by a powerful Chicago gambling syndicate.

Letendre and a Chicagoan already have been "rubbed out" police said, and the wealthy police official is said to know the identity of the third partner.

Atty. Gen. John Nolan, Mayor Ernest E. Dupre and Police Chief Edgar C. Turville of Woonsocket said measures would be taken to force the police official to divulge any information he may have concerning Letendre's fear of assassination.

Deny German Charges Defense Counsel Is Split

NUERNBERG, April 27.—(INS)—Defense attorneys for the top-ranking Nazis on trial before the allied war crimes tribunal issued a joint statement today to disprove charges that they had split into two camps.

The unusual document stated: "We are unconnected with any national-Socialist ideas, and anti-Semitic propaganda we of course condemn."

Press attacks against the attorneys have pointed out that they seem to have split because of grave differences in views on anti-Semitism and national-Socialism.

Prosecution authorities called the declaration of unanimity a face-saving device and said they believe two "clans" have actually developed with the defense counsels' ranks.

They said one clan follows the wishes of the "desperate" Hermann Goering, the other promptings of the "hopeful" Hjalmar Schacht, German minister of finance before and during Hitler's heyday.

Seventh Ward Mrs. Andy Bovo Severely Burned

Word from the office of the New Castle hospital states that the condition of Mrs. Andy Bovo of 2 North
Wayne street is still serious, it having been diagnosed that she is suffering from third degree burns.

It is reported that between 7:30 and 8 o'clock Friday morning, Mrs. Bovo was attempting to light a fire in the house furnace. Believing the fire to have died out, Mrs. Bovo threw some alcohol on the fuel, when suddenly there was an explosion with a burst of flame coming forth from the furnace entrance, setting her clothing afire and burning her badly.

One of the children rushed across the street to a neighbor's saying his mother was on fire. The neighbor went to aid, called a doctor, who ordered her sent immediately to the hospital, which was done.

Campers Feted At 'Y' Dinner

Reunion At Y.M.C.A. Dining Hall
Fetes 72 New And Veteran
Campers

Some seventy-two young boys, many of them veteran campers, and other planning to attend the summer site for the first time, enjoyed a camp reunion dinner in the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall today at noon.

The boys were treated to one of the "Y's" famous bean dinners, and heard brief talks by staff members of the association on the plans at Camp Fred L. Reitz for this summer.

William Winter, program activities director, delivered the welcoming speech to the boys, and was followed by David Gattall, boys' director, and James Datt, physical department head.

After the talks sound movies were shown, one depicting the basic strokes of swimming and the other showing one hundred yards of the Y. M. C. A. movement.

Registration for the camp sessions are now open with the first group departing July 8. The camp will remain open for five weeks.

No one is safe from Cancer

...IT RESPECTS NEITHER AGE NOR SEX

IF this child were yours . . . you would do anything to save him from cancer.

Cancer now ranks second as a cause of death in the United States: unless something is done about it, 17,000,000 American men, women and children now living will die of cancer.

That means that an average of one in every eight of us faces eventual death from this most dreaded of all diseases!

Cancer is no respecter of age or sex: more than 175,000 men, women and children will be its victims during 1946 in this country alone. While medical science has been winning victories over many diseases, deaths from cancer have been steadily increasing. To-day more children between the ages of 5 and 20 die of cancer than die of the following four diseases combined: Diphtheria, Infantile Paralysis, Scarlet Fever and Whooping Cough.

The great tragedy of this is that 30% to 50% of cancer deaths are needless. They could have been saved by early recognition of the symptoms of cancer and by early and proper treatment.

It is up to every one of us to help in the fight against cancer on three fronts:

1. To spread the knowledge that cancer is frequently curable if diagnosed in its earliest stages. 2. To provide the most modern facilities for the care and treatment of present cancer patients, and, 3. To launch a really comprehensive, nationwide cancer research program to find the basic cause and cure of cancer.

No one is safe from cancer. And no sacrifice is too great to protect a loved one from it.

Free World Press Demanded Of UN By Group Of Nations

Free Interchange Of Information
Desire Of Many Corners
Of The Globe

NEW YORK, April 27.—(INS)—The United Nations economic and social council's commission on human rights had before it Friday demands from all corners of the globe for a free world press.

The commission will meet to organize Monday with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt representing the United States.

Most of the communications urging free exchange of information were forwarded from the recent UN general assembly meeting in London.

The commission's first task will be to organize and discuss procedural matters. It is not expected to get around to the free press issue for some time.

Included in the batch of messages was a resolution from the Philippine commission, and a letter from Wilbur Forrest, chairman of the American committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors for World Freedom of Information.

Cuba submitted a draft of a proposed world bill of rights which included a free press.

The Cuban proposition was largely based on the American Bill of Rights but included proposals for the right to an education and the right of a worker to be paid "in proportion to the value of his contribution to the community."

The commission also will have a sub-group on the status of women at the request of Brazil. This body will discuss ways to end discrimination against women and limitations placed on them because of their race.

The Philippine free press resolution calls for an international press conference to discuss ways of reducing official regulation of the flow of news to a minimum, and to make sources of news and transmission facilities equally available to all.

Grove City Alumni To Honor War Dead With New Building

Memorial Structure To Serve As Recreation Center On College Campus

GROVE CITY, Pa., April 28.—Alumni of Grove City college today announced plans for the construction of a memorial building in honor of former students who lost their lives in World War II. The building, to be known as Alumni Hall, will serve as a recreation center for alumni, parents of the students, and the student body.

Announcement of the memorial project was made by Dr. Walter L. Moser, of Pittsburgh, president of the General Alumni association, who said that the building will be erected on the upper campus at a cost of $100,000.

Fund Raising

Funds for the project will be raised among the college's alumni in a campaign to be held during May and June. District meetings are planned throughout Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio.

Besides serving as a memorial to all those Grove City men who fell in the late war, the building will honor all those former students who wore the uniform of the armed forces.

The building will be a two-story structure and will provide complete facilities for all alumni groups returning to the campus for special functions. In addition it will serve as a health center for the students where the services of a physician and a nurse will be available. It has been pointed out that the construction of such a building will fill a long-felt need at the college where facilities for returning alumni have long posed a problem.

City on List

New Castle is on the list of forty-seven communities in which local group meetings will be held in the near future for the purpose of raising the funds for the project.

Organization meetings for the effort are now being scheduled throughout the area, with a number of preliminary sessions already held. Following the enlistment of the campaign leaders and workers in the respective areas, the active phase of the drive will get underway among the entire alumni body.

Huge Bail Set In Charges Of Draft Dodging

NEW YORK, April 27.—(INS)—A half million dollars bail—the highest ever fixed in the U. S. District Court in New York—was set today for Serge Rubinstein, international financier, accused of draft dodging.

Federal Judge James P. Leamy fixed the bond after chief assistant U. S. attorney, Irving Saypol, had asked $1,000,000 bail instead of the $200,000 set when Rubinstein was arraigned last January.

Saypol said Rubinstein had accumulated $5,000,000 in cash recently by liquidating securities, and had obtained a C-54 army transport plane capable of making a 5,000-mile non-stop flight.

ATOMIC KIDS

Some of the good people of Koppel will never know how near they came to getting a one way pass to the pearly gates. The alertness of the state police and County Detective Charles D. Ross averted the disaster, located a lot of stolen dynamite caps and tools stolen from the Ellwood Stone Company in the New Beaver township and arrested a group of three juveniles.

The youngsters had stolen 150 pounds of dynamite, 4000 caps and a lot of tools from the stone company. Neighbors in the vicinity of Koppel heard some blasting but thought the stone company was doing it. Then the company discovered the loss and the state police and Mr. Ross went to work on the case.

Some 118 sticks of dynamite, all capped and in one bundle were found in a shallow depression in the ground and with them about 2000 caps. A grass fire, or a rock thrown into the caps might have started an explosion.

'Whitewashing' To Be Squelched In Lichfield Case

General McNarney Not To Permit Any Whitewashing Of Individuals In Trial

FRANKFURT, April 27.—(INS)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, commander of the United States occupation forces in Europe, announced Friday that he will not permit any "whitewashing" in the courts martial which grew out of the alleged abuse of GIs at the Lichfield detention stockade.

The trials are being transferred to Bad Homburg from London due to charges of "whitewashing" of higher officers.

Gen. McNarney, in a formal statement, said that he would "not permit whitewashing of any culpable individual or any phase of the Lichfield case since its inception." He added:

"The case has received my personal attention and will continue to receive my close attention so that full justice will be done to all concerned."

He announced that Lieut. Richard W. Ennis, of Peekskill, N. Y., and Lieut. Granville Chagars, of Oklahoma City, Okla., will be the first defendants when the trials are resumed near headquarters. Ennis will be tried by the first court when it convenes April 30, and Chagars by the second court May 1.

Fourteen defendants have been transferred from London and are being held in a local stockade.

The McNarney statement was made when he notified the war department of the results of the investigation conducted by his inspector-general, army troops-shooter Maj. Gen. W. A. Burgess.

The Burgess report was related to Washington immediately.
